Wellington College

Wellington College (see title image) is a highly regarded private boarding school in Berkshire which had a state-of-the-art library built in 2012 on the south side of the Princes' Quad - a heavily used but aesthetically tired hub at the centre of the main College buildings.

Read on to find out how we transformed the entire space and turned the Princes' Quad into a vibrant area enjoyed by the whole school community - on budget and within tight timeframes.

Views on News

With the general election looming, issues around the National Health Service and associated debates relating to physical, mental, emotional and social health are top of the agenda.

Those of us who care about quality landscapes already appreciate the role they play in a 'whole health' approach to society.
